

If you would like a demo version of RealFlow 2012, please follow the steps below. Remember, you can only install the RealFlow 2012 demo once on a given machine. The demo is permanent but restricted. For a full list of restrictions, please see here: http://www.realflow.com/rf_price_list.php

Installation procedure for Windows:

* Run the installation program. This will guide you through the installation process.

Installation procedure for Mac:

* Drag the RealFlow 2012 folder to the applications folder.

Installation procedure for Linux:

* Untar the file by using the command: `tar -zxvf realflow_xxxx.tar.gz`

Important note: To use the RealFlow 2012 demo, you will also need to register your demo license. You can find the demo license in the RealFlow 2012 Installation Folder (demo_license.txt). To register your demo license, simply copy and paste the license text (including the #####) into the New License window.

The demo version of RealFlow 2012 has a number of restrictions (please see here for more information). If you decide you wish to purchase, DO NOT UNINSTALL THE DEMO VERSION OF REALFLOW. When you enter your purchased license into the New License window, the restrictions will disappear and the full range of RealFlow 2012 features will become available.
